

PACKERS' METHODS DESCRIBED TO JURY

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WILKERSON TELLS HOW PRICES WERE FIXED, IN OPENING STATEMENT.

ADDRESS FOR DEFENSE

Several Representatives For Packers Will Have Opportunity To Talk To Jury After Wilkerson.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—At a conference of counsel for the defense, held early in the day, it was decided that several representatives of the packers would make an opening address to the jury immediately following the close of United States District Attorney Wilkerson's opening statement.

District Attorney Wilkerson resumed his address when the court opened at ten o'clock. He described with minute detail the workings of the system by which the combination of the packers are alleged to have suppressed competition and fixed prices.

Crude Methods Charged.

"The crude methods of the old pool were supplanted in later years by the operation of the national packing company, by which the packers attended weekly meetings as directors of the corporations and fixed prices," said Wilkerson.

"Under the new system the packers met as directors instead of individuals, and the same results obtained."

Divided Meat Business.

"Prices were decided upon, the country's meat business divided among the different members of the combination, and the shipment to different markets agreed upon. The members used a code of trade terms in fixing prices at these weekly meetings."

It was an ingenious scheme effected after years of study and experience.

STATE EMPLOYE IS FIRST TO GET AID

Employee of State Forestry Commission Who Was Injured By A Falling Tree Gets Compensation.

Madison, Dec. 20.—The first accident claim against the state under the workmen's compensation act has been settled by the commission. John Dougherty, of Monona, was the victim. PRESIDENT ENJOYED HIS DAY IN GOTHAM

Busy Day With Several Speeches and Other Happenings Scheduled for Him.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Dec. 20.—President Taft and then more speeches was the program before President Taft this morning, the second day of his visit in New York.

After the round of dinner addresses, the president did not reach the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, until after midnight.

No public function confronted him today until 12:30 P. M. This morning several of the Republican leaders expected to pay their respects to the president and tell him how the party are getting on in New York.

Since Mr. Taft arrived several of the Republican leaders have taken occasion to declare publicly, his re-nomination. Will Barnes, Jr., the state chairman, whose recent utterances caused a flurry at Washington, was not among the leaders last night, and it is believed that he will not return until the president has departed.

SINCLAIR DIVORCE SUIT FOR RETRIAL

Supreme Court Justice of New York Refused to Confirm the Report of Referee Kelley.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Dec. 20.—Upon Sinclair's suit will have to be heard over again. Supreme Court Justice Davis today refused to confirm the report of referee William S. Kelley, who first heard the evidence and reported in favor of the author who is suing his wife, Meta Fuller Sinclair.

Justice Davis' reason was that the referee allowed Sinclair to testify regarding the alleged relations between his wife and Harry Kemp the "tramp poet" whereas the statute provides that in a divorce trial the husband or wife is not competent to testify except as to the marriage and to deny the statutory charges.

INTERESTING RELIC OF THE EARLY FRENCH EXPLORERS FOUND IN TREE TRUNK

Marquette, Wis., Dec. 20.—Francis Stephenson will, in a short time, present to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C., one of the most interesting relics of the early days, ever found in Wisconsin. It is a section of a bass wood tree from the Montreal river, tributary to Ashland, which contains the blade of an ax, supposed to have been left by an early French voyager who traveled over those parts, leaving the ax fast in the tree. Hundreds of years must have elapsed since that time for the tree grew around the ax blade, and when found, the pick of the blade was over five inches from the bark of the tree. In felling the tree, the fellowed the ax to fall, and it was found in the tree.

RICHESON WOUNDED HIMSELF IN GROIN

Minister Charged With Murder Cut Himself Badly While in His Cell.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Houston, Dec. 20.—Rev. Clarence R. Richeson who is confined in the jail awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Miss Avis Linnell, cut himself with a piece of the early today. It is said that the wound was inflicted in the groin and that his condition is not serious. It is said that his aim was not suicide.

Counsel for the accused man state that Richeson attempted to communicate himself, inflicting injuries which made it necessary for physicians to complete his act by operation at the prison hospital.

Cause Excitement.

The discovery was made by one of the watchmen and for a couple of hours the jail was greatly excited. Mr. Morso, Richeson's counsel, said today he had visited Richeson every day for more than a month until yesterday when, because of an engagement, he omitted his call. He said Richeson always had expressed confidence in his acquittal, and to the future proceedings, Mr. Morso said it would be impossible for him to offer even a conjecture.

The act of the minister is not regarded by the jail officials as an attempt to commit suicide, although there appeared to be some doubt on this point among the legal fraternity.

The attendance at the jail heard a disturbance in Richeson's cell only this morning and when they investigated they found the prisoner in great agony. He had pushed himself with a sharp jagged piece of the that he had converted into a knife.

When the guards approached the prisoner and inquired what the trouble was, Richeson said excitedly, "I've cut myself. I'm bleeding to death."

The prison doctor was hurriedly called and when he inspected Richeson he found that he had cut himself severely in the vicinity of the groin.

Surgeons were sent for and their hasty arrival caused excitement among the prisoners.

Four surgeons worked over Richeson for some time, and it was found necessary to resort to a drastic operation. Richeson was put under the influence of an anesthetic and the operation which was performed shortly before daylight, was said to be a successful one.

TOO MUCH EMPHASIS ON RELIGIOUS SIDE

Milwaukee Pastor Advises Against Attaching Religious Tag "To Everything a Boy Does."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Dec. 20.—"Don't tie a religious tag to everything that the boy does." This was the advice given by Rev. H. H. Jacobs, Milwaukee settlement worker, who lectured before the boys club a new organization here last night. The club was formed to succeed the Y. M. C. A., which failed because it was too strict in not permitting activity in its rooms on Sunday and Rev. Jacobs in his address endorsed the plan of the promoters of the club to get away from the religious side. He declared the organization was the greatest thing for the reclamation of boys of the city that could have been initiated.

MURDERER OF THREE GEORGIA WOMEN TO GET DEATH PENALTY

Nothing But a Respite From Governor Stalon Can Save J. C. Hunter From Capital Punishment.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 20.—Only a respite from Governor Stalon can save from the gallows J. C. Hunter, the triple murderer whose fight for life has been the most remarkable in the criminal annals of Chatham county. For nearly two years Hunter has been confined in the Savannah jail while eminent legal talent has worked to have the verdict of death set aside.

Three times he has been granted a respite when almost ready to mount the gallows. Meanwhile the case was carried to the supreme court of Georgia, which body by a unanimous vote refused to interfere with the verdict of the trial court. Hope that Governor Stalon might grant a respite is now practically abandoned and it is generally believed that the condemned man will be executed day after tomorrow.

Hunter's crime was the murder of three women in a house on Perry street in this city on December 10, 1909. One of the victims was his wife, from whom he was separated. The other victims of the man's furious fury were Mrs. Ellen Gribble, 70 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Gribble. The three women were literally backed to pieces with an ax.

A peculiar feature of the case was the general assumption that the crime was that of a negro assassin. Following the statement of neighbors that a negro was seen to leave the house occupied by Mrs. Gribble and her daughter, where Mrs. Hunter was living temporarily, the police began a round-up of negro suspects. Within twenty-four hours 150 negroes were taken into custody.

Hunter, the husband of one of the victims, was arrested a few days after the crime. At midnight he was taken to the morgue to look upon the dead face of his wife. He was asked if he desired to kiss her and did so. Throughout the terrible ordeal he showed no signs of fear or emotion other than sobbing.

Hunter's trial resulted in a verdict of guilty and a sentence of death. Then began the long legal battle to save the life of the condemned man. In February, 1910, Bingham Bryan, a negro, made his entry into the famous case, with the result that public opinion as to Hunter's guilt was considerably divided for a time. Bryan had been arrested in the general raid made on the negro quarter following the Perry street murders. Investigation of his movements brought to light nothing to connect him with the triple tragedy, but he was held in jail on a technical charge. Several months later he "confessed" to having murdered Mrs. Gribble, Mrs. Gribble and Mrs. Hunter. According to his statement he entered the house bent on robbery and carrying a hammer as a weapon. Mrs. Gribble caught him in the kitchen. He said he struck her several times with the hammer before she died. Then, he declared, the daughter ran in, and after striking her down with his fist, he beat her with the hammer. As he was trying to leave the house the third woman came in and grabbed him. He said he caught her by the throat and choked her and struck her with the hammer.

Bryan's confession was made in detail and at the time was generally accepted as clearing up the mystery of the murders. For more than a year the negro was kept in jail while a legal controversy waged over the question whether he or the convicted husband of Mrs. Hunter was guilty of the three murders. The battle ended finally in the release of the negro and confirmation of the verdict of guilty found against Hunter.

A Few Words Regarding Gazette Prizes From a Practical as Well As Valuable Standpoint

Late Risers Will Not Have a Look-in-On The Finish of the Campaign--Only Three Days Remain-- Campaign Closes Next Saturday

$2500 In Beautiful and Valuable Prizes--Are You Coming in for Your Share of Them December 23?

About Second Payments.
Do you fully realize the value of the second payment at this stage of the campaign? If not, read this:
A second payment means, when a subscriber has made one payment during the campaign and at a later date makes another payment, the last payment is considered a second payment. On such payments, votes are issued according to the following method:
The scale in force at the time the first payment was made is the scale used on the second payment and on the second payment the candidate will receive, in votes, the difference between the amount received on the first payment and the amount due had both payments been made at first.
To explain, taking for example when the first scale was in force: A person subscribed for one year by mail, new, at $3.00, and received 6,000 votes. Now, should that same person subscribe for a second year, he is still considered new, and would receive 12,000 votes on the second payment.
But this is not all. We are now running a special coupon which, when it accompanies a subscription to our office, entitles the candidate to just three times the amount of the second payment, 36,000, for one year by mail, if it is a second payment. This same offer extends to second payment delivered by carrier. Don't you think it worth your while to look these up? This great offer is just the one which will make it possible for the lady who began late to still be a winner. She may be successful in getting many of those second payments and accumulate a large reserve by little effort. The ladies who win these prizes will be thoughtful ladies who figure a little and the one who figures will not neglect these second payments. In sending them in to the campaign department be sure and state when the first payment was made and amount of votes received.

The prizes to be given away, next Saturday by The Gazette are by far the most practical and valuable ever given away by a newspaper in this section of the country. They are the finest that money can buy and any one of them is surely worth a big effort. There will be no disappointed ones as is usually the case in an event of this nature, as all non-prize winners will receive a cash commission of 5 per cent on all the money she collects.
The Overland Touring Car as grand prize is valued at $350 and a car that any person could have a lot of pleasure with and a car that will stand the wear. It has been purchased of Sykes & Davis of this city and the car may be inspected at their garage at any time. This firm sold many Overlands in this section which goes to show that the Overlands are giving satisfaction. This year the factory has more orders than they can fill and Overland purchasers are obliged to wait for some time before receiving their cars. The Overland will be ready for its owner next Monday. Who will be the lady at the wheel?
The "Schiller" piano to be given as first district prize is also 35 made in mahogany, oak or walnut at the option of the winners. They have never retailed for less than $340 and will be a credit to any home. These instruments may be inspected at Lytle's Music Store, West Milwaukee street, where they will only be too glad to show them to all interested.
The diamond rings to be given as second district prizes are perfect white stones and are valued at $80 each. They were purchased at Hall & Bayles, the leading jewelry firm of this city, and anything purchased from this firm is absolute guarantee that the quality is there.
The scholarships to be given as third district prizes will entitle the winners to a 24 weeks' course in the Janesville or Beloit Business Colleges. These schools are the best in Southern Wisconsin and the winners of these scholarships may feel proud and they will fit themselves for available positions in the business world. The schools are under the personal management of Mr. W. W. Dale, a man who has had 20 years experience in this line of work.
These schools have a constant demand for their students from the best firms in the city, the firms numbering among all the larger wholesale jobbing and banking houses. In nearly all these places of business you will find representatives from these schools. The students employed by these firms command the best of salaries, as they are thoroughly acquainted with business principles after having completed a course in these schools.

The watches to be given as fourth district prizes were purchased of G. W. Grant & Co., of this city. The watches are Elgin movement, 15 jewel in solid gold cases. These watches are warranted by this firm to be exactly as advertised.
The campaign manager feels that it is now high time to give a word of advice to the candidates. But three days remain in the great prize campaign and those are the opportunity days in your lives. Up to the present time no girl in any of the districts has a walk-away with these prizes. The management is glad this is so and it is with the result in view that we are always giving these liberal announcements.
Read our announcement about second payments and see how easily you can catch up with the foremost ones. Just set your alarm clock for an hour earlier during the next three days and spend that added hour in subscription getting. The campaign is won by nobody as yet, but the next three days will tell the story.
Another thing, don't waste your time trying to figure out how your old subscriptions can successfully be turned into new. It can't be done and Americans Great Meat Eaters.

It is said that Americans are the greatest meat eaters in the world, despite the fact that they have the widest choice of vegetables. Statistics prove that $100,000,000 more is spent on meat than on vegetables each year in America--What to Eat.

Stop That Cough In a Minute

Would you give morphine or chloroform to your baby or take it yourself? Of course not. Yet most patent cough cures contain one or both. They stop a cough in a minute, which is dangerous. A cough should be cured internally by healing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, throwing it out, which is done by coughing. Badger Cough Balsam does not contain morphine or chloroform. It is made by perspiration from bloodroot, lobelia, pine bark, wild cherry, etc. It cures a cough in a few days without filling the lungs with poisonous phlegm. The irritation is relieved; the lungs healed without danger of pneumonia. It's safe for children or old people. Get a bottle today for 25 cents. Badger Cough Balsam is made by Mr. Pfeunig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee.

Meritol White Lignum will take the pain away. Reliable Drug Co.

PRETTY WEDDING WAS HELD AT NOON TODAY

Miss Carrie Hendricks United in Marriage to Cyrus E. Davis in Evansville.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Evansville, Dec. 20.—At high noon today Miss Carrie Hendricks was united in marriage to Cyrus E. Davis of Maymott, Canada. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hendricks by Rev. Charles E. Coon, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hubbard acted as matron of honor and best man. The home had been most tastefully decorated for the event, the color scheme being blue and white. After the ceremony a delicious three course luncheon was served the fifty guests. Among the guests from away was Mrs. Charles Stone of Nebraska, a sister of the bride.

Both the first and the intermediate basket ball boys of the Y. M. C. A. go to Janesville this evening to play the Hawkey City teams. The teams are in first class shape and expect to make a good showing for themselves. The first team will line up as follows: Tonlin and Benson forwards; Schugger center; Lee, Gillies and Graham guards. The intermediate team will play the following men: Antes, Jones and Wilder forwards;

Let not things, because they are common, enjoy for that the less share of our consideration.—Pliny.

WINTER VEGETABLES

BEGINNING TO RISE

Some Slightly Higher.—Butter Has

Been the Same for Two Weeks

May Drop Shortly.

Creamery butter is selling for 38 cents today, although some of it is still bringing 41 cents. The High market did not rise any last week and that it remained the same this week and, owing to the opposition of Wisconsin dairymen, may begin to drop soon.

Export colony is selling as high as 20 cents, although some is still to be had at the same price which it has been 18 cents.

White turnips have almost, if not quite, disappeared from the stores.

Besides these few changes the prices are much the same as they were yesterday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The area of high atmospheric pressure over the eastern United States is moving slowly off toward the Atlantic. It is attended by fair weather in the East. The temperature is slightly lower in the East and Southeast in consequence of the free radiation through the clear skies prevailing there.

The barometric depression in the Southwest is moving northeastward over the Plains of Texas and Oklahoma. It has been attended by heavy rains in the Gulf states, and snow in the Rocky Mountain slope, from North Dakota to Kansas. It will advance toward the Lake region today and tonight and be attended by heavy rains and snow.

High atmospheric pressures prevail over the North Pacific coast. The temperature is consequently low in the Plateau region.

In this vicinity there will probably be snow tonight and Thursday. High easterly winds will prevail.

CLARENCE H. MACKAY, President.

RECEIVED AT 195 DE. DU DELIVERY NO. 140 Paid Night Letter

INDEPENDENT COMEETIVE PROGRESSIVE

To The Janesville Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Letter Bag received in good condition. Will try and visit all my little friends on Christmas Eve and wish them a Merry Christmas. Of course, I cannot bring everything they want, so they must not be disappointed.

SANTA CLAUS.

Stodious Minds.

Dear Santa:
I wish you would bring me a pencil, a book, a tool box, and some candy and nuts. I am nine years old. I go to school. My brother wants a pair of high shoes, a pencil and pencil holder. He is seven years old. He goes to school. He is in the first grade.

From your friends,
LESLIE and ALFRED KNOPES.

Numerous Wants.

Edgerton, Wis., Nov. 24, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
My name is Josie Jacobson. I am a year and a half old. I go to school. My teacher said we should write to you and tell you what we want for Christmas. I want a doll and a box of candy, and bring me a doll, an apple and an orange, and can you bring me a little piano that my doll can play on, bring me a doll cart, and some nuts, and for Sidney a little train and a book and a book for me, and I want a pony and cart that Sidney can play with. I want a pencil and a tablet and I want some colors and a fur and muff, and bring me some post cards and some pop corn and a clock.

JESSIE JACOBSON.

Wants a Rifle.

Janesville, Wis.

Dear Santa:
Please bring me a counter break sled and a pair of buffalo gloves, and a rifle and a pair of high shoes and a pair of rubber buttons. Good bye.

KENNETH CHENEMORE.

A Bull's Desire.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 14, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little boy 5 years old and do not go to school yet. Please bring me a saw, a hammer and a lot of nails. Some candy and nuts too. That will be all.

With love to you,
From HAROLD STEWART.

A Fourth Grader.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 14, 1911.

Dear Santa:
I am a little girl that is 9 years old, and I am in the fourth grade. I would like a set of furs and a doll, also some candy and nuts. I think that is all for this year.

Good bye,
From REBECCA STEWART.

Stocking on Door Knob.

Edgerton, Wis., Nov. 22, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a pop-gun, a top, and bring my little sister Mary a doll and I want a little train with an engine and an automobile and a little sleigh, a drum too and a rocking horse. I will hang my stocking on the door knob so you will be sure to see it. I am seven years old and go to school every day.

OSCAR OLSON.

Gun That Shoots.

Edgerton, Wis., Nov. 23, 1911.

Dear Old Santa:
Will you please bring me a little black dog, a automobile, some postal cards, a train of cars, a little horse with a wagon. I am only five years old but I go to school every day with my sister Myrtle. I want a gun that shoots too.

Yours truly,
FREDERICK HOLM.

If You Can Spare Them.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 14, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little boy six years old living at 410 Lincoln street and if you have just these few presents to spare, would like for you to leave them here for me, a flexible flyer, a boy doll, a policeman's suit, a good sized snow shovel, a jack in the box and powder horn. That's all and thank you.

STANLEY LOUIS SLIGHTAM.

"Two-Wheeler Bikes."

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 11, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a watch and a chain and air gun with rubber bullets. A two-wheeler bike, a few games, a tree.

Yours truly,
EARL HARVEY,
Schmidley Flats.

Chief Kline Too.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 11, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a book and ladder with a bell on it, a chief Kline, a milk wagon with milk cans, a circus wagon with animals in it, a lumpy dumpty circus, a pop gun and a patrol wagon.

JEAN HARVEY,
Schmidley Flats.

I am in fourth grade and would like a flute and a pair of dumb bells and Bananas. That's all I would like and some nuts and some candy for Christmas and a Christmas tree. I guess that all I would like for Christmas and don't forget me.
Yours truly,
HAROLD BISH, 603 Cherry Street, Janesville.

Asks For Men To Eat.

Dear Santa Claus—A merry Christmas to you. For Christmas I want a red sweater for me, a blue blanket for my baby Hilda too, some shoes for me and some hair ribbons and a flexible flyer, a store you can get it at the five and ten store and a hen to eat. I hope you can get around to the poor people. With love,
CATHERINE McMANUS.

THE SILENT FILM
A. J. C. OUT OF DARKNESS

The following is a list of the names of the people who have written to me since the first of the year. I have not had time to write to all of them, but I have not forgotten any of them. I have not had time to write to all of them, but I have not forgotten any of them.

What do we mortals live for? Is it for the sake of the world? Is it for the sake of the world? Is it for the sake of the world?

Who breathes must suffer and who thinks must mourn. The human race are sons of sorrow born.

Born to be ploughed with years and sown with care. Nursed with vain hope and fed with doubtful fears.

Tired of beliefs, we dread to live without. Yet who knows most, the more he knows to doubt.

Not a true soul ever born for naught. Yet millions never think a noble thought.

Tis not in mortals to command success. And endless toil brings naught, but bitterness.

To-morrow's sun to these may never rise. The flower that smiles to-day to-morrow dies.

Alas, what sorry is there in human state? Man's life is but a dream, a shadow, a shade.

Year chases year, decay pursues decay. Swift to the close, ebb out life's little day.

And into light. Hail! Sacred dawn of glorious liberty.

Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee. This day is born a savior, Christ the Lord.

And man redeemed to Paradise restored. Oh, holy trust! Oh, endless sense of rest!

Transcendence born to weary hearts oppressed. Enriching all the common things of life.

Our balm in sorrow, and our stay in strife. Hope springs eternal in the human breast.

And faith reveals a life divinely blessed. Good actions crown themselves with lasting days.

And God, fulfills Himself in many ways. Time well employed is Satan's deadliest foe.

And happiness oft comes from seeming woe. Life's mysteries deep hid, elude our sight.

One truth is clear, whatever is, is right. Something remains for us to do or dare.

Emboldened Faith will counteract despair. Life is not shadow but a promise given.

Of change from woe to joy, from earth to Heaven.

Will Take Anything.

Santa's Toy Shop.

Fullon, Dec. 11, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
My name is Lionel Powers and I was eight years old last fourth of July. I would like to see your big toy shop. If you come to Fullon, don't forget to stop at our house. Dear Santa, bring me a little piggy bank and a little house and a little steam engine.
Good bye, Santa.
From your little friend,
LIONEL POWERS.

Of a Practical Turn.

Janesville, Wis., Dec. 15, 1911.

Dear Santa Claus:
I want you to be sure and bring me a Christmas tree with lots of things on it. And I want a little automobile with a crank on it, so I can ride in it and a little tooter-tooter and a little derrick like I play with up to kindergarten, and a horn, and Winthrop wants a bay wagon with a horse with it, and a horn and a doll, with lots of candy and popcorn. I know this is all. Good bye.

Letters For Santa Claus

Writes Wishes of Three.
Edgerton, Wis., Nov. 5, 1911.

Dear old Santa:
I write you a letter and ask you if you will be so kind and bring a few things for Christmas. I am a little boy 4 years old. I have a little sister 4 years and a little brother 2 years old. My name is Harold. I would like a kite and tablet and pencil and a bow and arrow. My sister's name is Esther and she wants a work basket and a little trunk and some new clothes for her doll. My little brother's name is Arthur. He wants a trumpet and a little tin car, and lots of candy and nuts; but don't forget to bring us a nice fat duck for Christmas dinner. With best wishes,
Your friend,
HAROLD RUCKS.

Holds Out Inducement.

Dear Santa Claus:
If you are coming to see good boys I would like you to come to my house and bring me a Flexible Flyer and a drum. Perhaps Curlew would like one too.

I hope you can make lots of children happy. I will try to be good.

Is Kind to Her.

Janesville, Wis., 11-11-1911.

Dear Santa:

I wonder how you are getting along and if you have forgotten me. I shall never forget you; because you are so kind to me. My name is Mary Ethel Kimball. I live at the mission; my mama runs the mission and is city missionary. I am four years old, and can and do sometimes wash dishes, and mama says I wash them clean.

Sometimes I sweep the kitchen and street sidewalk. And now, dear Santa, I thank you for your kindness to me last Christmas, but you know little girls like something new every Christmas. Please give me a doll, a bottle of perfume, a hockey cap, a string of beads, a Jack in the box, a picture book, a little doll's table, some animal crackers, and salted peanuts. Please send me a nice Xmas tree, and wax candles, and be sure and put them where mama can find them.

And now, dear Santa, I will say good bye, and wishing you many happy returns of the blessed Yule tide.

I am truly yours,

MARY ETHEL KIMBALL.

Would Shovel Snow.

Dear Santa Claus:

My name is David Atwood. I live at 613 S. Third street, Janesville, Wis. I want a Victor machine and a snow shovel.

Good bye.

DAVID ATWOOD.

HEART AND HOME TALKS BY BARBARA BOYD

The Christmas Dress for the House

NO matter how pretty one's own gown, how gay the table, how many the toys scattered about, the Christmas spirit isn't quite at flood tide unless the house has a festive touch. One needs the spicy odor of evergreens through the home, the bright note of holly, to put the humming touch to the season's joy.

If at all possible, make up a jolly party and go out in the woods and gather the greens yourself. Nothing makes the Christmas spirit so real as gathering the holly and the pine and the laurel and the mistletoe, and coming back with great basketfuls and armfuls of them. If living in the city, it is worth while to take a trolley ride into the country to get some of the greens. One can't get so many, but one can get some. And there is no comparison between hunting them in the woods, and sorting over the bunches on the city sidewalks or in the markets.

If there is plenty of holly, a charming effect is given by breaking pieces the same length and making a border around the room. The effect can be heightened by bringing slender rods of it down, here and there, ending in a wreath. But this should not be done where there are many pictures or ornaments, as it would look confused. But if the pictures could be removed, and some such decoration as this given the room, the effect would be delightful.

Garlands or sprays of soft ground pine can be used to form "Merry Christmas" over the doorway or over the mantel, if there is space for it here. A portiere effect of ropes of pine or laurel is very pretty.

In planning the decorations of a room, it is well if possible, to have some scheme that has unity. Pieces of holly over the pictures and doors are better than nothing at all. But they are apt to be scrappy in effect and not so impressive as some well thought-out plan of decoration.

In decorating, it is well to bear in mind also the lighting of the room. In city rooms that receive little sunshine and are therefore dark and gloomy, an abundance of bright holly berries and scarlet ribbon is more desirable than plain greens. In bright sunny rooms, one can have a preponderance of the green, if holly is scarce. Little juniper or cedar trees in jardinières set about in corners are very attractive and lend an aromatic spice to the air that is refreshing.

It gives a festive air to the breakfast table Christmas morning to lay sprigs of holly in a wreath effect in the center, and to put a little spray at each place. Some families have a funny little gift for each on the table, but have the distribution of the real gifts afterward. All these things are of course a matter of choice. The real thing worth while to do is to make some decoration of the house and of the table in order to add to the joy of the day. As the eyes note the green and the red, and the senses are stirred by the pungent smell of pine and holly, the spirit mounts. And everything that contributes to this effect is to be desired.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

I AM urged not to forget my promise that this column shall occasionally be dedicated to telling about unusual occupations, at which women have earned their bread and butter, or at least their butter.

I wish my reader friends would not forget their end of this taking. Please remember that any time you hear of some woman who has found some less crowded profession or industry, you owe it to all who have helped you at any time, to pass this suggestion along.

One interesting way in which a good cook is earning her pin money, is in making wedding cakes. She has other means of support, but tucks this industry in along with them. She makes the wedding cake, bakes it, bakes it up, and delivers it, and also makes the bride's cake when desired. She buys her materials in wholesale, and on a large order often makes from twenty-five to fifty dollars. Why couldn't any girl, who is a good worker and wants to earn extra pin money, send out pretty cards to her friends, announcing that she will do this sort of work?

A young woman in New York takes contracts for removing cockroaches from buildings. You shudder at that, and think such work should be left to men. I don't know. Isn't such work really a part of housekeeping? Apropos of this, I know a man who is a rat exterminator by trade, and apparently quite prosperous, but according to all traditions, I suppose this would not appeal to the feminine mind.

A woman in Boston takes inventories of houses that are rented furnished and afterwards checks up the belongings.

A letter friend tells me that many young housewives, or rather housewives-to-be, have expressed the wish to her that they had some woman who would go on a shopping expedition with them, and show them how to furnish their new homes economically and tastefully. It seems to me that to people who cannot afford an interior decorator and yet feel their own inability to buy wisely and with good taste, the services of such a helper would be really invaluable, and would more than pay back whatever percentage of the total expenditure she charged.

When you read the item "Topsy legs" on the bill of fare, do you ever wonder where the frogs for that delicacy come from. I always had a strange notion that they must come from France, but they don't. They are raised right in this country, and one woman at least is engaged in this unique industry. She is from New Jersey. She was in poor health, which forbade indoor work, and so she bought a farm and took to raising bullfrogs.

If you don't like to do queer things, you are doubtless shuddering at some of these extraordinary women.

If you don't mind being unconventional, you may even find a suggestion in these hints.

And at any rate, whether they touch us closely or not, I think these odd things our sisters are doing, are interesting to hear about.

Don't you?

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Appropriate Garnishes for Holiday Dishes. Salads Sauces and Relishes.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Garnish the Christmas goose by setting it inside a wreath of parsley and on this at intervals place little roses made by cutting an unbroken shaving round and round an uncooked red beet. Or use large cranberries to give the touch of red.

Orange is generally associated with duck, usually wild duck, yet if you try half a cup of hot orange juice over the goose just as it goes to the table the experience will be satisfactory.

The brilliant red canned pimento, or sweet pepper, which has come into use in recent years adds greatly to the stock of garnishing materials. Cut it in bands or fancy shapes or chop it very fine and use for trimming salads.

Make a salad from white cabbage chopped fine and to four cups of the cabbage add one level tablespoon of salt, the same of sugar and one-half teaspoon of white pepper. Moisten with French dressing or a cooked dressing as preferred and arrange in a mound on a flat plate. Garnish with a border of celery carots and sprinkle with minced pimento.

Current and fox grape jelly are with cooked together ten minutes. Take out the lemon and put in but one layer of apple. When this is cooked tender take up without breaking and put in more apple. When all is cooked reduce the syrup a little by boiling then strain over the apple. To save work pour syrup for apple sauce into the kettle of the fireless add the apples all at once, heat a few minutes then place on the heated stone in the fireless and close. The apple will cook unbroken and will not need watering.

For a smooth sauce cook the apples with a little water until soft, sift through a wire strainer, sweeten to taste but not too sweet as the goose is so rich in fat that an acid is needed. Add a speck of cinnamon for seasoning.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

WE MUST live through the dreary winter.

If we would value the spring: And the woods must be cold and silent before the robins sing. The flowers must be buried in darkness before they can bud and bloom. And the sweetest, warmest sunshine Comes after the storm and the gloom.

NOVEL AND DAINTY SANDWICHES

Every hostess, when entertaining, racks her brain for something that will be a little different from those served by her friends. When preparing the sandwiches why not use fancy cutters instead of the squares and triangles which have been the thing so long? Some will say, "there is so much waste in using cutters." That is true, but those scraps need not be wasted, and sandwiches of this kind are so much more attractive, a point that every entertainer strives for.

The greater the variety of cutters you possess the more stylish will be your refreshments.

The hardest part of making sandwiches is in cutting the bread thin enough. The more water-like, the more dainty they are.

To make especially nice sandwiches, the crust of the bread is removed. The butter used for spreading sandwiches should be creamed until soft and waxy. Nuts chopped and mixed with cream cheese will make most delectable sandwich filling.

When meat is used it is better to chop it and add the desired seasonings and milk or cream to make it of the consistency to spread.

Spanish peppers pounded to a paste and mixed with cream cheese is another tasty combination.

An excellent sweet sandwich is made sugar grated and mixed with chopped almonds, or marmalade, or preserved gingered pears make a nice filling, chopped fine.

Flax pounded to a paste and mixed with a little salad dressing makes good sandwiches.

Preserved ginger, chopped and thinned to spread with, some of the slimp is another favorite with those who are fond of ginger.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

BEST DIET FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.

"A child's disposition is dependent," says Miss Helen Smith, authority on domestic science, "more upon the food it eats than upon rules of conduct. The mother who wishes her child to have a sunny disposition must exercise great care in the quantity, quality and variety of the food. Show me a surly boy and I will show you one badly fed." This agrees with the dictum of Bishop Fallows, "You can make a boy good or bad according to the way you feed him." After weaning I would feed a child for a year on milk and bananas, milk and unpolished rice with raisins only. No table drinks, flesh or condiments should be allowed. After the second year, bananas and cream with a glass of prepared butter-milk sweetened with maple sugar or molasses for breakfast, soaked and simmered entire wheat grain, with a few slices of bread, dried, not less than twenty-four hours old, or rice with cream, for dinner, and prunes or figs or dates for supper. Instead of the commercial candy, two to four ounces of maple sugar should be allowed. Such a diet will be perfectly satisfactory to any properly bred boy. If he does not get the impression that he is being cheated out of coffee or tobacco or pie or cake that his elders use, in due time he will have no desire for any of these things.

Thought for Today BY MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE

IT IS NOT FOLLY.

TODAY a letter came from a life-long friend, who all the years of her married life, has joyfully given herself to making her home and family happy. After telling me of the household cares that still absorb her time "although the children are grown," she says, "I am haunted by the desire to play again, to make the music come out of the instrument myself, so when I am not afraid there is anyone within hearing, I practice sometimes. We have a new miniature grand which is a delight and tempts me to keep on trying in spite of the feeling that it is folly." I felt impelled to answer her at once, and beg her to take up her music again, not to let it be a secondary, but make it a first claim on her time.

Why should not the woman who has reared her family have the opportunity for self-development? The growth which comes with life's great experiences compensates more than we realize for lack of practice in any particular line. This friend, for instance, would, by giving time to it, get more real music out of the instrument than in her young womanhood. If the family go on expecting her to be at their beck and call when there is no longer need of it, or if the children smile at Mother's attempt to develop the talent so long put aside that their smile grow, it may require a wrench to regain her liberty. But it is best for the family, as it is for her, that she should not stagnate in useless routine, but should respond to this call from within for the growth and self-expression. Why have that beautiful home and lovely piano and not be free to get and to give the highest enjoyment of which she is capable.

THE WAY SHE WEARS HER JABOT NOW.

New York.—Tired of sprawling her surprise bodice, the point being tucked broad, three-cornered jabot over the under the opposite side at the front front of her coat now that fur has over the shoulder and arm. The little time has arrived, the pretty maid in blouse, accompanying a skirt uses it in even more effective manner and coat suit of dark wool mixed with her indoor costumes. It is laid stiff, is made very dainty and dressy along one side of the opening of her by the aid of one of these big jabots.

NEW FUR TOQUES HAVE "RABBIT" EARS.

New York City, Dec.—Very quaint, shopped affair made of eight sections of velvet put together with corded seams. The border and "ears" are made of black marten fur which is a polite name for skunk. At either side below the upstanding "ears" are cushions of gold lace over black satin gun. The fur cap pictured is a marten.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT FOUND EVERYWHERE

THIS IS THE TIME FOR GLAD AND HAPPY GATHERINGS.

PESSIMIST UNDESIRE

Only Those Who See the Clouds With The Silver Lining Can Really Enjoy the Holiday Season.

To the Editor:—

This is a layman's sermon on Christmas. It is not a Bible story nor a pessimistic talk on conditions. This Christmas time is a period of happiness. Ever since the wandering shepherds on the hills of Judea, saw the wonderful star in the heavens announcing the birth of Our Saviour and the Wise Men of the East followed its guiding light and found the infant Jesus lying in a lowly manger, bringing their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh, Christmas has been observed the civilized world over.

That was centuries ago but still the spirit of rejoicing continues. Still the shepherds watch their flocks on the hills of Judea and we all pay homage to the great Christ that leads us all to salvation and happiness. However we are often tempted to lose sight of the real meaning of the Christmas holidays. Too often the glitter and show of costly presents blind the eyes of the world to the true significance of the meaning.

Christmas is a church holiday and the celebrations that we indulge in are of pagan origin. The tree, the lights, the games, the family gatherings all have their part today and the world rejoices. In this day and age of modern conveniences we lose sight of the old time celebrations. Our happy gatherings in the big houses the home made presents that the work of weeks and months. Today the modern Christmas shopper goes to the store and buys what is desired.

One Christmas, years ago, when the Puritans were barely settled on the bleak New England coast, there was a Christmas camp around. The Puritans, stern religious people, did not believe in its celebration with its gift giving and observed it as a church holiday only. In one of the little homes there was a tiny child. A lonely child who had no playmates but its gentle mother who had followed the father in the new land and tried to forget the old English Manor home and its Christmas gatherings.

Christmas drew near and the Mother's heart ached for the child. The tiny little girl was so lonely. In her own heart she was lonely too, far away from all but her stern young husband who so brave she allowed the pangs of remorse and kept on. From the bag of rags, she fashioned a doll baby. It was not so beautiful but a few soft touches with a paint brush, hidden from prying eyes she dressed it and when Christmas Eve came she hid it in the little child's crib, where she could see it in the morning.

She feared for the disapproval of the stern husband and watched him closely as he saw the gift. Perhaps he too remembered England in better days for he smiled and silently approved. Can you imagine the delight of that little Puritan girl when she found her dear baby doll. Not a Puritan beauty with flaxen curls, silk dresses and clothes that go on and off, just a simple bundle of rags and the Mother's love had created it and the lonely child had a playmate.

It is long years since that Puritan Mother made the doll. Generations have come and gone, but the same spirit can provide today. The giving of pleasure to others is half of Christmas. Today in other columns of the Gazette are published letters from children to Santa Claus. Some may feel they are not interesting, some may not even read them, but in each line printed is written an abiding faith in mankind, personified by the patron saint of children, that should not be neglected.

Many a tiny writer has asked for a multitude of things that it will not receive, some may be favored by loving parents and relatives while others will be disappointed sadly at the empty stockings. The loss of faith in the child is the first step into the sordid life's work. It means the awakening into the stern realization that man must work and women must weep. Let us delay this awakening a trifle longer. Let us see if we can not this Christmas bring a bit of sunshine into the hearts and homes where it might not otherwise be found.

The Salvation Army is trying to do a great work in preparing dinner baskets for the worthy poor. Add your mite to their fund and feel that you have done your share. Recently an appeal was made in the different schools for supplies and jars, boxes and seven barrels of supplies were brought to the teachers to add to this glorious work of caring for the unfortunate.

Janesville and Rock county have responded liberally to the demand made upon their purses to aid the sufferers from the recent cyclone that left its trail of desolation. It was the true Christmas spirit that prompted these big hearted men and women to give to the aid of the sufferers. The same spirit that should be found in every heart this Yule time.

The sale of Red Cross stamps has also demonstrated another phase of this Christmas giving. Miss Wynne, the young lady who has taken charge of the work in Janesville has worked early and late to make the sale successful. She has been aided by the school children, liberal hearted citizens and the results will be most satisfying. Each little stamp means something towards the great sum being raised to fight the dread disease that saps the strength of the strong men and women and leaves its mark upon future generations. It is a fitting time of the year to aid this work and citizens are playing their part.

Be an optimist not a pessimist. See the daylight not the hole and at this time of gladness and good tidings remember that the true gift, comes from the heart not in the vain show of worldly wealth. It is the children's time, their happiness should be yours and in reading the requests of the little friends of Santa Claus, your everyday troubles and rejoice with them.

The Good Fairy.

In a little cottage there once lived a little girl by the name of Dinah, who was always so gentle and kind that everybody called her "The Good Fairy."

In the morning she would get up bright and early, putting on her clean dress and doing up her hair neatly, she would go downstairs. First she would do the morning work, with the neatness for which she was noted. When her mother comes down stairs, she has a breakfast on the table, that would be fit for a queen. The smile of pleasure that appears on her mother's face at the sight of her daughter's work is beautiful to behold. The good fairy says that is all she asks for, and she always sees it. In this manner you may find her working away with a heavy laugh or cheerful song all day long.

Dinah is always trying to please her parents, in whatever she does or says. Her father she made happy by helping him in his garden in her cheerful way. Little brother was helped in his difficult problems and whatever that was good for him.

The big sister's sewing was often done at night by Dinah. The neighbors and friends all loved this Dinah because of her kindness, cheerfulness and winning ways. Kind and good she was to all, both young and old, rich and poor, it made no difference what they were. She said of herself that in this world, she was the happiest.

Do you think that Dinah deserves the name of "The Good Fairy?"

HIS BIT OF EMPIRE.

It is a well known fact that some Englishmen are more inclined to talk about the Empire's fringe, of which they are ignorant, rather than about its heart, which they possibly know something of. A housewife whose husband was addicted this way turned his thoughts into more homely channels by her ready wit.

One Saturday evening he came home late smelling strongly of tobacco, and very red in the face.

"Oh," he said, "I've had a fine time. I've been to an Empire meeting. It was grand."

Then he frowned and said, impatiently:

"What's the matter with support? Ain't it ready yet?"

His wife, who was peeling potatoes and holding a squalling boy, rose and extended the baby to him.

"Here," she said, "take hold of your bit of the Empire while I fry these chips."

NOT IN THE RUNNING.

Changes in the primary law made it possible for almost anybody, who so desired, to run for office in San Francisco at the recent primary election. All that was required was a certain number of signatures to a petition. The consequence was a very large number of aspiring patriots had their names put on the ballot for the office of supervisor.

A friend met Tim McGrath, locally famous as the man who brought out Tom Sharkey, and asked:

"Tim, are you running for supervisor?"

"No," Tim replied, "I'm the one that ain't."

Upsetting an Old Tradition.
Confronted by a stern and menacing footpad, the belated citizen turned his pockets inside out and produced a red colored gas bill.

"That won't do," the highwayman said; "the gas company didn't get all your money. When a man pays his gas bill nowadays he does it to get a ten or a twenty changed. Stand still or I'll bore a large hole through you!"

Intuiting a thorough search, he finally found $13 concealed inside the lining of his victim's hatband.

Suspicious.
"How does your husband like the new merschaun pipe you gave him as a birthday present, Mrs. Leeder?"

"He won't touch it; he suspects a trick. He thinks it's made of celluloid."

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, Dec. 20, 1871.—The thermometer indicated 14 below zero at seven o'clock this morning and four below at two o'clock p. m.

The state's prison was organized in 1851, opening with seventeen inmates. They reached 100 in '57 and increased to 170 in Oct. 30, '60. The war on the rebels had a healthy effect on the prison material—decreasing the number to 97 in October, '65. The total of crimes against property figure at 80 per cent; those against persons at 20 per cent. Milwaukee holds the list with the names of 549, Rock 114, Dunn 102, Racine 69, La Crosse 55, Dodge 58, Grant 53, and Columbia 51. The Shawano County Journal tells of a white deer killed by a Menominee Indian in that country.

The Civil Service Commissioners, after giving the act under which they became a commission, enter upon a sketch of the policies of the various administrations, in the earlier history of the government, with regard to the appointments to the civil service, and then pass to a description of the present condition of the civil service, which has hitherto been sustained by common consent, setting forth in detail the serious and threatening evils of the present practice of treating inferior posts of the administration as party prizes; and answering the various arguments by which it is sought to be justified.

He is an exceptionally big man, with all the native American fondness of big men for humor, love to listen to a good story, and love to tell one. Here is his latest: "I attended a colored camp meeting in one of our West Virginia counties where there is a large colored population, and while there heard a powerful prayer by one of the preachers in behalf of the missionaries. 'Oh, Lawd,' he prayed, 'extend thy protecting arm over do missionahs in all parts ob de worl; in Asia and in Persia; in Ea'opo and in Africa; in do land ob de midnight sun, and in do islands ob de sea; and especially, oh, Lawd, guard and watch ob de missionahs in dat fat oil land whar de foot ob man has never trod and dat de eye ob Gawd has never seen.'"

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams

BY WALT MASON

The good Queen Hess in great distress beheld a puddle in her way. She stopped and sighed: "Great Scott!" she cried, "I'll get all splashed with mud and clay!" And then a bloke took off his cloak and threw it at her.

AN OLD STORY and throw it at her sovereign's feet; and so she trod across dry shod, and went howling down the street. That valiant knight, who saw her plight and noted Johnnie on the spot, by that small game won lasting fame, and is enshrined in poet's rays. A thousand jays went on their ways that morning, doing useful things; they moved their grass like men—also, no poet of their labor sings! They pushed their plows and milled their crows, and dug their wells and planted trees; no hero is hit, none throws a fit, ennobling laborers like these. They had their day and passed away, and went to sleep in unknown graves. The poet writes of cheap John knights, and o'er some foolish action raves. It's all the same; he stand out fame and boodle to the grand stand guys; and tollers, poor, unseem, obscure, must cough up when they'd advertise.

Santa Claus is to go around as we saw one on all West Virginia corners but he got away. He assured us that there was one that would not run Christmas as he had had shipped early and had enough to keep him busy all day.

Always Open for the Thirsty.
There is a cafe in Venice which has never been closed, night or day, for 150 years.

"Papa" Came From France.
The use of "papa" in this country illustrates the flow and ebb of fashion in words, as in costume, pretty clearly. All authorities agree that "papa" and "mamma" arrived here from France in the seventeenth century. At first they were courtly expressions, and were used by "persons of fashion," adults as well as children, in the eighteenth century. But with the nineteenth century the middle classes took them up, originally regarding them as genteel; in our own time one of the faults of the hero of "E. P. Doty" were "o ars," after coming into a little bit of a splash, was that he "ad the cheek and impudence to call his mother 'mam.'" The usual result followed. Everybody's words, adopted as genteel, became vulgar; and now "papa" and "mamma" are dying out even among children.—London Chronicle.

Powerful in Prayer.

In Right Places.

A witty woman once said that housekeeping consists in taking things out and putting them back. One might elaborate the statement by saying that good housekeeping consists in getting the things back in the right places, and easy housekeeping consists in having places enough for the things.

Vanishing Womanly Women.

We have women with a cause and women with a mission and women with hobbies, whose chief aim it is to be talked about; but the simple, adorable, womanly woman is dying out.—Crown.

Old-Time Delicacies.
Cleopatra, frail and fragile, like many thin people at heartily, and her guests wondered at the rarities of which they partook. There was every thing there that gastronomy could think of, except mutton, an exception in favor of the divine Ammon with the hamlike head. Even the roast beef and plum pudding were not lacking, for these delicacies were as popular in Thebes as was the broiled and salted goose, with the good brown stout, and strong barley wine to cheer the spirits and assist the digestion.

Get Close to Nature.

Says a philosopher: "Observe nature. When you come to a barnyard go in and see the pigs and fowls and the cows. Climb a fence now and then and go into the fields and look at the crops or the cattle. I know of no places where there is more philosophy than in a barnyard. You can learn much from animals. Within their circle they know much more than we do."

No White Voice Wanted.
Race prejudice struck an original note in West Forty-second street the other night, says the New York News. About eight o'clock several small colored boys took positions near the entrance to an office building and piped up a plantation melody. Soon the desired crowd assembled and the boys' singing increased in volume and fervor. Presently a white newboy who stood at the inside edge of the audience joined in. With his first note every voice except the newboy's stopped singing. The leader of the colored choir leaped forward menacingly. "Cut it out," he said. "We can't have our music spoiled by a white voice." Although he knew all their songs, the newboy remained a silent spectator throughout the remainder of the concert.
